Frequently Asked Questions about Recovery Programs

What is New York City doing to help people whose homes were damaged by Sandy?

The NYC Build It Back program will assist homeowners, landlords, and tenants affected by Sandy within all five boroughs of New York City. The program consists of multiple pathways, including: rehabilitation or reconstruction of homes; reimbursement for repair work already carried out; and acquisition of homes.

How do I register?

Fill out the registration form online at www.nyc.gov/builditback or call 311 and ask to register for the NYC Build it Back program. Keep in mind that 311 operators cannot answer specific recovery questions or approve or deny callers for aid.

What happens after I register?

After registration, the City will schedule an in-person appointment, starting the full application process and collection of eligibility documents. Applicants will be contacted based upon order of priority. Applications will be submitted with the assistance of a Housing Recovery Specialist who will act as the applicant's primary point of contact until they either select an assistance option or are deemed ineligible.

The applicant must provide all required documentation to the Housing Recovery Specialist in order to complete an application. Once you have registered, begin to gather documents that you will need in preparation for a meeting with a Housing Recovery Specialist. A list of suggested documents to begin gathering can be found here:

- http://www.nyc.gov/html/recovery/html/homeowners/hro_checklist.shtml

I registered for the New York State Rising Recover Program for help, do I have to apply again for the Build it Back program?

The NY Rising Recovery Program is the assistance program for residents of New York State residents who reside outside of the five boroughs of New York City and whose affected homes are outside of the five boroughs of New York City. Because the registration for NY Rising is only intended for residents outside of NYC, you must apply to NYC Build it Back for assistance as New York City has a separate program for funding assistance.

The only New York State program which New York City residents may be eligible for is the New York State Buyout program. Please visit NY Rising for more information.

NY Superstorm Sandy Recovery Resources

Information for Homeowners

What are the criteria for eligibility?

Personal eligibility requirements include:

- Homeowners and landlords must have owned the damaged property at the time of the storm and maintained ownership in order to be eligible for assistance.
- All residential buildings which act as a primary residence (whether owner-occupied, or renter-occupied year-round) may be eligible. Per federal regulations, second homes are not eligible for assistance.
- US citizenship or documented qualified alien status

Property eligibility requirements include:

- Homes must be located within NYC
- Homes must have suffered damage as a result of Sandy

What if I've already received other funds for repair?

The Disaster Recovery funds which are being used to assist eligible applicants are subject to Federal requirements which require that the program confirm that applicants have not already received financial assistance from other sources for the same activities for which the program is providing assistance. If applicants have already received assistance from other sources, it may impact the amount of assistance which they may receive from the program.

Examples of other sources which applicants may be required to disclose in order to receive repair or reconstruction assistance include, but are not limited to:

- FEMA Individual Assistance for Structure (IA);
- FEMA National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP), for structure, not contents;
- Private Insurance, for structure, not contents;
- Increased Cost of Compliance (ICC);
- Small Business Administration (SBA);
- New York State assistance;
- Philanthropic funds granted to provide specific damage relief;

I qualified for an SBA loan but didn't take one. Will that affect the amount of assistance I can get under NYC Build it Back?

If you applied, and were found eligible for an SBA loan, the loan amount you were eligible for will be considered assistance that is available to you, and will therefore be deducted from your total eligibility for grant assistance under NYC Build it Back. This holds even if you did not take out an SBA loan.

Can I be reimbursed for work I've already done?

The NYC Build It Back program may include reimbursements for owners of some 1-4 unit buildings who have already paid out-of-pocket for repairs. Reimbursements will be subject to the program's eligibility requirements and restrictions on assistance according to federal regulations. for example, repairs must have been code-compliant, and substantially damaged homes will not be eligible for reimbursements.

The Program is focused on assisting those who have the greatest unmet need. Rehabilitating and reconstructing buildings to provide safe and sanitary housing will be given greater priority for funding assistance, and reimbursement will not be available at least until the City receives additional CDBG funding.

Are there restrictions if I get assistance from the program?

For five (5) years after the date of construction completion, the applicant is required to maintain ownership of the assisted property. Properties in the flood plain may also be subject to a federal requirement to maintain flood insurance in perpetuity. Failure to maintain flood insurance when required may result in ineligibility for future federal assistance, should a future disaster event occur.

What do "substantial damage" and "minor damage" mean?

If the cost to repair a building, including bringing damaged elements of the structure up to code requirements, will be 50 percent or more of the structure's pre-storm fair market value, it is considered substantially damaged.

Once your home reaches the substantial damage threshold, there is a requirement to repair or rebuild to the most current building codes (as determined by the NYC Department of Buildings) and to eliminate residential units below the most current flood elevation (as determined by the FEMA flood maps).

Information for Landlords and Coop/Condo Representatives

I own a rental apartment building, or I represent a coop or condo, and it's damaged and/or uninhabitable. What assistance can I apply for?

Multi-family rental buildings over 4 units and cooperatives or condominiums in the five boroughs damaged by Sandy can qualify for NYC Build it Back low- or no-interest loans to rebuild and repair.

These low or no-interest loans will fund storm-related repairs and flood resiliency measures. Owners will work with housing experts in developing the scope of construction work.

We're giving a priority to buildings with low-income tenants and buildings with extensive damage.

Information for Renters

I'm a renter living in temporary housing because of Sandy. What aid am I eligible for?

If you are a renter displaced by Sandy, and your household income is less than 50% of the area median income, and you have not already been offered placements through public housing or Section 8, you may be eligible for a temporary rental subsidy for up to 2 years. Households are required to pay 30% of their income toward rent. Funding is extremely limited, and households currently residing in the city's hotel system will be prioritized. Eligibility will be determined through the central Build it Back 311 intake process.

If you are a renter displaced by Sandy with an income between 50%-80% of Area Median Income (AMI), HPD may be able to help you find an affordable apartment. Eligible households identified through the Build It Back 311 intake process will work with a housing placement coordinator who will assist with apartment referrals.

Information for Co-Op and Condominium Owners

I'm an owner in a co-op or condominium, how should I apply?

If a building had damage to common and mechanical areas as well as to individual units, a representative of the co-op board or condo association should register for NYC Build it Back.

If your individual unit in a multifamily building was damaged but common areas or mechanicals were not damaged or have been repaired, the individual co-op or condo owner should register for NYC Build it Back.

Information for FEMA Applicants

Sandy survivors should stay in touch and notify FEMA when they receive their insurance settlement, need to update their contact or address information, or have any questions regarding their application.

Applicants may call FEMA's Helpline at 800-621-3362 (Voice, 7-1-1/Relay) or TTY 800-462-7585 to update FEMA. The toll-free telephone numbers operate 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. EST, seven days a week.

For information about New York State recovery programs, visit www.NYSandyHelp.ny.gov or call: 855-NYS-SANDY. The phone line is available 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. weekdays, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekends.

Individuals can check on their application at DisasterAssistance.gov or via smartphone or tablet at m.fema.gov.

Determination letters

- If you receive a letter from FEMA saying that you are ineligible for assistance, be sure to read the letter very carefully.
- You may simply need to provide further information or documentation in order to qualify. The letter will explain exactly what additional information is needed. You may still be approved for help from FEMA.
- You also may receive a letter from FEMA stating that you are ineligible simply because you have not yet received a settlement from your insurance carrier.

Eligibility for Individual Assistance

- Disaster assistance is designed to cover uninsured and under-insured disaster-related losses, but cannot duplicate services and funds compensated by insurance claim or provided by another assistance program.
- FEMA will want to see a settlement or denial letter from your insurance company to ensure there is no duplication of benefits. If your insurance company covers your losses, FEMA will not duplicate that coverage.
- If you still have unmet needs or damages that the insurance company does not cover, contact FEMA.

NY Superstorm Sandy Recovery Resources

Keep receipts for repairs

- FEMA recommends all Sandy survivors who received assistance from FEMA keep receipts or bills for disaster-related expenses for a minimum of three years.
- FEMA has a process by which undocumented or unsubstantiated assistance may be questioned and if not supported, the funds may have to be returned to the government.
- Survivors with questions should call the FEMA Helpline at 800-621-3362 (Voice, 7-1-1 Relay) or TTY 800-462-7585.

Stay in touch with FEMA

- Sandy survivors should stay in touch and notify FEMA when they receive their insurance settlement, need to update their contact or address information, or have any questions regarding their application.
- Applicants may call FEMA's Helpline at 800-621-3362 (Voice, 7-1-1/Relay) or TTY 800-462-7585 to update FEMA. The toll-free telephone numbers operate 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. EST, seven days a week.

FEMA Flood Map Information

To give homeowners and builders the best current information on flood risk, on June 10, 2013, FEMA released Preliminary Work Maps for New York City. These maps are an interim product in the development of preliminary Flood Insurance Rate Maps (FIRMs) and reflect the results of the ongoing coastal flood hazard study and more precise wave modeling. This information is considered the best available flood hazard data and replaces the Advisory Base Flood Elevation (ABFE) maps that were initially prepared for rebuilding and recovery efforts in the aftermath of Hurricane Sandy.

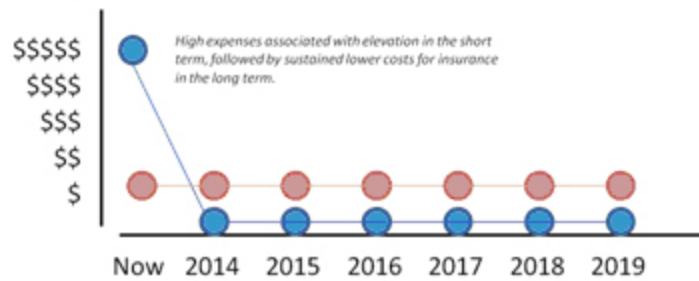

To facilitate recovery and rebuilding, the City has made accommodations in zoning regulations and upgrades to the Building Code so that new construction can build to these higher standards.

Substantially Damaged or Substantial Improvements : Any building classified as substantially damaged or as a substantial improvement must be elevated to fully comply with the flood zone regulations for new buildings in Appendix G of the 2008 NYC Building Code. For residential buildings, this includes elevating the habitable spaces and filling in the basement or cellar.

Other: Buildings not classified as substantially damaged or as a substantial improvement are not required to elevate/reconstruct the entire building according to the flood zone regulations for new buildings in Appendix G. However, the Department of Buildings strongly recommends that homeowners comply with these regulations, as well as relocate essential equipment and electrical panels above flood levels wherever possible. It is also important to note that flood insurance premiums are based on flood risk. Property owners can save money by reducing their vulnerability to flooding.

Recovery Programs

Community Development Block Grants (CDBG)

The federal government uses a program called Community Development Block Grants (CDBG) to provide communities with resources that address a wide range of needs. These funds are flexible and help cities, counties and states recover from disasters – particularly in low income communities. Some of the federal aid for areas affected by Hurricane Sandy will come through this program in the form of Community Development Block Grant- Disaster Recovery funding. There will be several rounds of CDBG-DR funding. NYC's initial award is for $1.77 billion. The chart below summarizes how the City plans to use this money.

The Community Development Block Grant Disaster Recover funds are administered by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). To learn more about the CDBG Disaster Recovery program and other Community Development programs, visit HUD's website at www.hud.gov.

Disaster Case Management Program (DCMP)

An organized, effective long-term recovery process is needed when survivors' personal resources, insurance, and government grants and loans are insufficient to meet their recovery needs. Potential clients should be referred to Disaster Case Management if they have disaster-caused needs not met by the referring organization's program(s).

Sandy DCM Referral Line: 855-258-0483

Background

New York State, with funding from the FEMA, is providing disaster case management (DCM) services for New Yorkers with unmet needs arising from Hurricane Sandy. Catholic Charities Community Services, Archdiocese of New York is managing the DCM program, as it did following Hurricanes Irene and Lee.

The DCM program is designed to provide a locally based disaster case manager for New Yorkers with unmet needs related to Hurricane Sandy. By funding a coordinated network of community-based agencies, New York State hopes to provide easy access to support for residents seeking help and to avoid duplication of services.

Catholic Charities is subcontracting with locally based not-for-profits to provide direct services through October 2014 in the following counties: Bronx, Kings, Nassau, New York, Orange, Putnam, Queens, Richmond, Rockland, Suffolk, Sullivan, Ulster, and Westchester.

Eligibility

In order to be eligible for the DCM program, a person must have an unmet need that arose from or was exacerbated by Hurricane Sandy. Those who are ineligible for FEMA or other assistance programs are still eligible for the DCM program as long as they have a verifiable unmet need related to the storm.

Program Model

- Offering information and referral services to clients that do not need, want, or qualify for DCM services;
- Accepting client inquiries by phone, in person by appointment or on a walk-in basis;
- Preparing a comprehensive assessment of client needs;
- Developing an outcomes-based individualized disaster recovery plan;
- Providing crisis intervention services where appropriate;
- Advocating to resolve unmet needs and to access available benefits and services;
- Maintaining ongoing contact with clients;
- Initiating or participating in case conferencing where needed with other service providers;

NY Superstorm Sandy Recovery Resources

- Closing cases as appropriate, and referring clients with unmet needs to long term recovery committees in their communities;

Accessing Services

Through 211/311, the Catholic Charities SANDY Helpline (855-258-0483), or directly through DCM agencies (see list, below).

Whether you have applied for FEMA or not — even if you were not eligible or were denied assistance — there may be local resources available for you. A trained, compassionate case manager can work one-on-one with you to:

- Answer your questions about recovery
- Develop a plan to address your needs
- Connect you with appropriate community resources
- Determine what financial assistance may be available to you
- Advocate on your behalf with service and benefit providers

Hazard Mitigation Grant Program (HMGP)

Available to:

- communities to develop and update hazard mitigation plans
- communities and certain private non-profits to carry out hazard mitigation projects

Letter of intent due Thursday, August 1, 2013, by 11:59 pm.

Hurricane Irene, Tropical Storm Lee and Superstorm Sandy inflicted unprecedented damage in many areas of New York State. In response to that devastation, the State has committed to assist local governments, non-profit organizations, and the private sector rebuild stronger, more sustainable communities. These efforts are aimed at increasing the State's resiliency, mitigating the risks of loss and damage associated with future disasters, and reducing hardship.

The New York State Office of Emergency Management (State OEM) is pleased to announce the availability of Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Hazard Mitigation Grant Program (HMGP) funds associated with Presidential Disaster Declaration DR-4085: New York Hurricane Sandy ("Superstorm Sandy") declared October 30, 2012.

This grant program provides the opportunity to invigorate New York's economy, encourage innovation, improve technology, and increase the quality of life for New Yorkers while developing a more crisis-ready New York State. To move these initiatives forward, the State will make the HMGP available statewide and across a range of sectors, giving preference to proposals that:

- Are in a county declared in Hurricane Irene, Tropical Storm Lee or Superstorm Sandy.
- Ensure continuity of critical services by reducing the risk of damage and loss of function from flooding and other hazards (including storm surge) at government, private non-profit, and private sector facilities.
- Protect and enhance the reliability and resilience of transportation, communications or energy infrastructure through traditional or innovative mitigation measures: for example, by burying vulnerable power lines or installing outage management systems; storm-proofing vulnerable cell towers with back-up power systems to ensure uninterrupted communications in emergencies; protecting rail or road corridors against flooding; or mitigating scour-critical bridges or culverts..
- Provide green, natural or innovative technological solutions to long-term threats: for example, by constructing or reinforcing natural barriers to protect coastal communities; implementing new technologies to minimize damage to facilities in floodplains; or purchasing and modifying land to provide buffer zones to protect communities and their infrastructure..
- Implement permanent back-up power systems to ensure continuity of power during and after a disaster: for example, by installing combined heat and power (CHP) systems in a critical facility serving vulnerable populations; or wiring for generators to ensure capacity to maintain power during and after such a disaster.
- Implement the eligible mitigation recommendations the NYS Ready, the NYS Respond, and the NYS 2100 Commissions (see www.governor.ny.gov/NYS2100Commission), or those identified by a county's assessment of its emergency response capacity.
- Enhance the ability of the State and/or local governments to monitor rain, streams and/or tides, to provide advance flood warnings and evacuation notices, or to provide other situational awareness during a disaster: for example, by installing stream/water level monitoring system to provide evacuation alerts..

- Provide training for local floodplain administrators and code officials to perform post-storm inspections required under local law and State Code to speed recovery.
- Realize permanent flood mitigation solutions: Removing structures from a floodplain, or relocating them to higher ground. (This includes the acquisition of homes damaged after June 30, 2012, that do not qualify for existing NYS or NYC housing recovery programs for survivors of Superstorm Sandy, Hurricane Irene and Tropical Storm Lee.)

Recreate NY Smart Home Program

The State of New York and its Recreate NY Smart Home Program partners in local governments are now accepting registrations for housing assistance for residents located in disaster-declared counties. These registrations will be used to determine potential program eligibility for each registrant. This includes counties affected by Hurricane Irene or Tropical Storm Lee.

If your residential property was affected by Superstorm Sandy, Hurricane Irene or Tropical Storm Lee, you may be eligible for assistance to address your remaining unmet housing recovery need(s) in a variety of categories, including home repair/rehabilitation, mitigation/elevation and/or buyouts. Assistance may also be available to owners of rental properties in the impacted region. Receipt of funding under this program may not duplicate disaster-related assistance you have already received or may be eligible for from other federal, state, local and/or private sources of disaster-related assistance, including, but not limited to, homeowners and/or flood insurance proceeds.

Funding may be available for residential property owners in disaster-declared counties whose property was damaged or destroyed by Superstorm Sandy, Hurricane Irene and/or Tropical Storm Lee. Funding will be provided to assist property owners to cover damages that are outstanding after federal, state, local and private sources have been exhausted. The assistance is targeted to mitigation assistance of affordable housing to elevate homes or key systems. Affordability and flood insurance requirements may be placed on all assisted units following completion of mitigation activities. These requirements and program parameters are subject to federal approval and may change. Funding for this program will not be distributed by the federal government and made available to the State of New York and its partners until federal agencies have approved the program discussed in this document.

Recreate NY Smart Home Buyout Program

Funding for buy-outs may be available for homeowners in disaster declared counties. Funding will be provided to give residents the opportunity to leave their properties through a voluntary buyout program for homes that were substantially damaged and/or located within designated buyout areas where damage occurred.

Buyouts are strictly voluntary. No homeowners are ever forced to relinquish their property, but homeowners who decide not to participate in the buyout may be required to take risk reduction measures, such as elevating their homes and purchasing insurance coverage through the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP), if locally available.

More information will be available within the coming weeks.

NYC Build it Back

is the City program to assist homeowners, landlords and tenants in the five boroughs whose primary homes were damaged by Hurricane Sandy. Funded by the Federal Community Development Block Grant – Disaster Recovery (<http://www.nyc.gov/html/cdbg/html/home/home.shtml>) (CDBG-DR) Bill passed by Congress, the goal of NYC Build it Back is to help affected residents return to safe, sustainable housing by addressing unmet housing recovery needs .

To Get Started:

Register online:

- <https://www.nyc.gov/apps/311universalintake/form.htm?serviceName=CHALL+Build+it+Back>

or call 311 and ask for NYC Build it Back. Once you register, begin to gather necessary documents from this list

- http://www.nyc.gov/html/recovery/downloads/pdf/prepare_your_documents.pdf

The City will schedule an in-person appointment between the applicant and a Housing Recovery Specialist. The Housing Recovery Specialist will act as the applicant's primary point of contact through the application submission process until the applicant either selects an assistance option or is deemed ineligible. Applicants will be contacted based upon order of priority.

Options available through the NYC Build it Back program

NYC Build it Back provides several pathways to help you return to permanent, sustainable housing: Repair, Rebuild, Reimbursement and Acquisition. These are the options your Housing Recovery Specialist will discuss with you if you are eligible for funding:

- Repair: If your home needs repairs, NYC Build it Back will assign a contractor to you to complete the work, or you can use your own contractor to do the work, following program guidelines and cost restrictions. NYC Build it Back will make payments directly to the contractor.
- Rebuild: If you need to rebuild your home, you may choose from several customizable model homes designed specifically for your community. You may also choose your own contractor to build one for you, following program guidelines and within cost restrictions. NYC Build it Back will make payments directly to the contractor.
- Reimbursement: If you have already spent your own funds to make repairs to your home, you may be eligible for reimbursement. Please maintain all receipts for work done and items purchased.
- Acquisition/Buyout: You may also have the option of voluntarily selling your home to the government. New York City and New York State have been working together to determine where it makes sense to purchase properties return to undeveloped, open space (NY State Buyout Program), and where it makes sense to purchase properties which can be redeveloped to more resilient standards. Your Housing Recovery Specialist will explain those options.

Information for Landlords of Multi-family Dwellings

NYC Build it Back has a Multi-family Program designed to assist owners of properties with five or more apartments within all five boroughs affected by Hurricane Sandy. Rental properties, condominiums, and cooperative buildings are all potentially eligible. Financial assistance will be provided as a forgivable loan to cover unmet need for rehabilitation of buildings that sustained damage as a result of Sandy. In addition, the City intends to strengthen the housing infrastructure by identifying opportunities to increase resiliency against future events.

The Program's objectives include:

- Assist properties affected by Sandy by funding the unmet need for the rehabilitation of eligible multi-family buildings. Work funded may include repairing damage to common spaces, mechanical systems, and individual apartments. "Unmet need" is the difference between the total cost of the repairs, less any amount paid to the property owner from any other sources, including insurance.
- Help multi-family buildings affected by Sandy by improving the resilience of their properties while restoring their buildings.
- Prioritize assistance to NYC's most vulnerable populations, including residents with low to moderate income, and properties which suffered the most severe damage.

Owners and property managers of multifamily properties and representatives of cooperative and condominium properties are encouraged to register with the NYC Build it Back program. City representatives will guide owners through the process including determining the building's eligibility, developing a scope of work to be funded under the program and overseeing construction.

NYC Community Development Block Grant - Disaster Recovery Program

New Yorkers living and working in communities affected by Hurricane Sandy continue to face many challenges as they rebuild their homes, restore their businesses and get their lives back to normal.

On January 29, 2013, President Obama signed into law the "Disaster Relief Appropriations Act, 2013" (Public Law 113-2) which provides $16 billion in Community Development Block Grant Disaster Recovery (CDBG-DR) funds to repair and restore areas affected by Hurricane Sandy.

The City's first round of CDBG-DR funds is $1.77 billion. On May 10, 2013, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development approved the City's partial Action Plan ("Action Plan A" – <http://www.nyc.gov/html/cdbg/html/plan/read.shtml>). The plan details how we will use this funding to help New Yorkers rebuild their homes, businesses and communities. We spoke with elected officials, community members, and home and business owners to create a plan that will best serve those recovering from Hurricane Sandy.

NYC temporary rental subsidy program

Information for renters affected by Hurricane Sandy:

The City, through the Department of Housing Preservation and Development, will be administering a temporary rental subsidy program to serve a very limited number of Sandy-displaced households earning less than 50% of the area median income, who have not already been offered placements through public housing or Section 8. Under this temporary disaster assistance program, households are required to pay 30% of their income toward rent. Registration for rental assistance is through the 311 NYC Build it Back intake process. Funding is limited and households currently residing in the city's hotel system will be prioritized.

The Salvation Army of Greater New York Hurricane Sandy Recovery Program

As of May 1, 2013, the Salvation Army transitioned into Long Term Recovery, and will be providing disaster case management to select households on Long Island and Staten Island. Emergency assistance will no longer be available to households outside of the Disaster Case Management Program. Financial assistance can be requested through the case management process and presented to the Unmet Needs Round Tables, where The Salvation Army is an independent funder.

The Salvation Army retains a partnership with the Southern Baptist Disaster Response (SBDR) repair projects in Nassau County and on Staten Island, and with the American Red Cross for Transitional Shelter Assistance (TSA) and Special Needs clients. The Salvation Army participates in all community based recovery committees as well as in NYC VOAD and Long Island VOAD.

Social Services Block Grants (SSBG)

Available for:

- Social, health, and mental health services/costs resulting from Superstorm Sandy
- Repair, renovation and rebuilding of health care facilities, mental hygiene facilities, child care facilities, and other social services facilities

Applications due:

- Friday, August 30, 2013 by 3:00 pm

With its devastating power, Superstorm Sandy impacted the lives of millions of New Yorkers and caused damage and suffering in hundreds of communities across the State. The storm and its aftermath exacerbated the needs of the State's most vulnerable residents and raised additional critical needs. New York State's health and human service providers have met the daunting challenge of caring for Superstorm Sandy's victims while simultaneously striving to address their own needs for repairs and resources, or in some cases working to reopen after being forced to shut their doors due to the storm.

To address the needs of these critical health and human service providers and the populations they serve, the State of New York will distribute $200,034,600 in federal Superstorm Sandy Social Services Block Grant (Sandy SSBG) funding through a public and transparent solicitation for proposals. Sandy SSBG resources are dedicated to covering necessary expenses resulting from Superstorm Sandy, including social, health and mental health services for individuals, and for repair, renovation and rebuilding of health care facilities, mental hygiene facilities, child care facilities and other social services facilities.

New York will allocate Sandy SSBG funding to address four Focus Areas:

1. Repair, renovation and rebuilding;
2. Uncompensated operational costs, including provision of critical services during/after Superstorm Sandy;
3. Ongoing support and social services for those impacted by Superstorm Sandy; and
4. Flexibility to ensure that additional eligible social service needs resulting from Superstorm Sandy can be addressed.

NY Superstorm Sandy Recovery Resources

These resources will help New York State fulfill the five broad goals of the Social Services Block Grant:

1. To provide economic self-support;
2. To promote self-sufficiency;
3. To prevent or remedy neglect, abuse, or exploitation of children and adults;
4. To provide for community-based care, home-based care, or other forms of less intensive care; and
5. To provide institutional care when other forms of care are not appropriate.

Sandy SSBG funding must be used for costs that are

1. directly related to Superstorm Sandy and populations that were impacted by it; and
2. not reimbursed and not currently eligible for reimbursement by the federal government (including FEMA), private insurance and any other public or private funding sources. Duplication of benefits is prohibited.

Eligible costs include the traditional SSBG-funded services:

- | | |
|--|---|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Adoption Services• Case Management Services• Congregate Meals• Counseling Services• Day Care—Adults• Day Care—Children• Education and Training Services• Employment Services• Family Planning Services• Foster Care Services—Adults• Foster Care Services—Children• Health-Related Services• Home-Based Services• Home-Delivered Meals• Housing Services | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Independent/Transitional Living Services• Information and Referral Services• Legal Services• Pregnancy and Parenting Services• Prevention and Intervention Services• Protective Services—Adults• Protective Services—Children• Recreational Services• Residential Treatment Services• Special Services—Disabled• Special Services—Youth at Risk• Substance Abuse Services• Transportation Services• Other Services |

The Sandy SSBG supplemental appropriation also allows funding to be used for:

- Renovation, repair and rebuilding services
- Health care and mental health services, including costs associated with service delivery as well as the operational cost of sustaining the ability to provide such services in order to subsequently reopen facilities entirely shut down as a result of Superstorm Sandy

Based on the determination of the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services, Sandy SSBG funding may not be granted to compensate a facility or provider for revenue loss due to the impact of Superstorm Sandy.

- Conversion of steps into ramps no greater than 18" in height;
- Replacing existing plumbing fixtures with accessible fixtures;
- Removal of sink base cabinets to provide an accessible work surface and/or a sink;

Disaster Housing Assistance Program (DHAP)

- FEMA and the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) have executed an interagency agreement to assist Hurricane Sandy survivors who are struggling to find housing as they rebuild their lives.
- The Disaster Housing Assistance Program (DHAP) will provide temporary rental payments directly to landlords to help families displaced by the storm.
- Disaster survivors do not need to apply separately for DHAP-Sandy-NY. FEMA will determine eligibility and refer eligible disaster survivors to HUD.
- HUD, working with state and local housing agencies, will administer the program.
- The purpose of implementing DHAP-Sandy-NY is to assist those who have not been able to reach their permanent housing solution within FEMA's standard forms of assistance.
- Since DHAP-Sandy-NY is a form of direct assistance, monthly rental payments provided to landlords are not deducted from the FEMA Individual Assistance $31,900 maximum grant.
- Eligibility for DHAP is based on the following conditions:
 - ✓ The applicant is not able to transition to sustainable housing through FEMA's standard forms of assistance, or
 - ✓ The applicant has attempted to locate a rental property within a reasonable commuting distance but has been unable to do so because of factors outside their control, and
 - ✓ The applicant provides substantial evidence documenting a permanent housing plan.
- Applicants who are determined to be potentially eligible will be contacted by FEMA. If they are interested in the program and found to be preliminarily eligible, a FEMA representative will meet with them to review the program and its requirements. Eligible applicants will then be referred to HUD for entry into DHAP.
- Once applicants are in DHAP, they will no longer receive rental assistance from FEMA. HUD will begin to provide rental assistance directly to the applicant's landlord. A portion of the rent will be contributed by the applicant directly to the landlord.
- Participants will be required to participate in Disaster Case Management, which links disaster survivors with case managers who help them develop and implement a Disaster Recovery Plan.

Common Ground

Our mission is to strengthen individuals, families, and communities by developing and sustaining exceptional supportive and affordable housing as well as programs for homeless and other vulnerable New Yorkers.

Common Ground prioritizes individuals who historically were perceived as unreachable and "unhouseable": those who have lived on the streets for years, who have the most debilitating mental and physical health conditions, and/or who have suffered significant adversity (childhood abuse or neglect, long-term foster care placement, traumatic military combat) that contributed to their homelessness. Despite being the primary consumers of substantial public resources, these special needs groups have been consistently marginalized or ignored by conventional outreach, shelter, and housing systems.

Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program

A federal grant distributed to localities to fund neighborhood redevelopment, economic development, and community services. Eligible uses include acquisition, rehabilitation, or demolition of real estate. Any central city of an MSA, local government of over 50,000 people, or urban counties with at least 200,000 people automatically qualifies for formula-based funds from HUD. The formula allocation for CDBG funds is based on poverty levels, population, growth lag, overcrowding in housing, and the age of housing. Once receiving funding, the recipient must ensure that at least 70 percent of all funds are used for people with low or moderate incomes. NYS HCR oversees the distribution of a state-wide CDBG program, while the City of New York receives a direct allocation from HUD. About 60 percent of the City's allocation is used by HPD for housing services.

Directory of New York City Affordable Housing Programs

New York City has a long history of government intervention in residential housing markets, resulting in more than 175 affordable housing programs reflecting a wide range of goals and strategies. The Directory of New York City Affordable Housing Programs (Beta) catalogues this remarkable variety for those who develop, work with, study or live in the housing affected by these programs.

FEMA housing resources

The Federal Emergency Management Agency and our federal partners are working closely with the state to address the housing needs of New Yorkers displaced by Hurricane Sandy. Our priority is to help survivors move out of hotel rooms and into apartments or their safe, repaired homes. FEMA has identified rentals in the area damaged by Hurricane Sandy and is working to match survivors to that available housing. A goal is to place survivors in rentals within their neighborhoods, or as close as possible to those areas. This not only is better for survivors, it helps neighborhood businesses.

Our goal is to maximize the number of people who are able to move back into their own homes; and for them to get home as quickly as possible. There are several programs in place to help ease this housing crunch in a place where there is always a housing crunch.

NY Superstorm Sandy Recovery Resources

Rental Assistance

Renters with a need for housing because of storm damage to their dwelling may be eligible for a FEMA temporary rental grant. This assistance may be provided while renters are working to accomplish a permanent housing plan.

Returning to a permanent home is a significant milestone on the road to recovery. FEMA rental assistance may last for up to 18 months from the date of declaration. So it's important for survivors to have a permanent housing plan.

FEMA has a Housing Portal at asd.fema.gov/inter/hportal/home.htm to help families find rental units. In addition to apartments or homes normally available, the portal identifies units provided by our federal partners.

U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development

- <http://portal.hud.gov/hudportal/HUD>

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, led by Secretary Shaun Donovan, is also playing an active role in providing temporary housing to storm-displaced families. HUD has identified thousands of available units in HUD-assisted housing and is getting that information to displaced individuals, primarily at Disaster Recovery Centers.

The Department has also increased fair market rental allowances to make it easier for displaced Section 8 voucher recipients to find replacement housing, and is allowing owners of HUD-funded senior developments the flexibility to open up vacant units to storm evacuees.

Secretary Donovan was also instrumental in bringing together New York City and State government officials and real estate trade groups in the aftermath of the storm to find housing for New York displaced families. This has led to a government and private sector partnership that gives displaced families greater options in finding vacant apartments that are affordable and safe.

Our overriding concern is to ensure the public health and safety of our fellow New Yorkers, to assess the condition of assets under our purview, to continue to carry out housing code inspection services citywide, and to ensure that our construction and demolition sites are secure. Additionally, we have been inspecting conditions at city-owned buildings under HPD's jurisdiction and will continue to do so.

Neighborhood Revitalization NYC (NRNYC) Mold Treatment Program

What is the NRNYC Mold Treatment Program?

A new initiative paid for with private funds from the Mayor's Fund to Advance New York City, the Robin Hood Foundation and the American Red Cross and developed in partnership with the city. The Program will directly help approximately 2,000 households in affected areas deal with mold left behind by water damage from Hurricane Sandy. Neighborhood Revitalization NYC will coordinate mold treatment work. The treatment work will be conducted by environmental consultants, contractors and not-for-profit organizations, staffed by volunteers.

How do I apply for the program?

Eligible homeowners referred by NRNYC's partner network can register by calling 1-855-740-MOLD (6653). This call center will operate Monday – Friday from 9am to 6pm. In addition, 311, New York City's main source of government information and non-emergency services, will have information and can connect homeowners with the hotline.

How does a person qualify for the program?

There are two qualifying factors: the condition of the property (extent of water damage) and household income. Priority will be given to households with income up to 120% of the area median income (AMI); however, households up to 175% may qualify. Special consideration will be made to elderly homeowners under 120% AMI.

INCOME ELIGIBILITY BY % OF AREA MEDIAN INCOME (AMI)
OF THE NEW YORK CITY REGION

	120%	175%
Family of four	$99,600	$145,250

NY Superstorm Sandy Recovery Resources

Family of three	$89,640	$130,725
Family of two	$79,680	$116,200
Individual	$69,720	$101,675

Is there a cost for the program?

This program will be free for qualified participants.

What is the process once a homeowner applies?

After a homeowner applies, NRNYC will review the application and notify the homeowner whether they qualify for the program. Homeowners who qualify will be scheduled for an environmental assessment of their property. If the environmental specialist determines that the mold treatment needs meet the criteria of the program, mold treatment will be scheduled. In addition, an environmental specialist will conduct a final assessment of the property.

Can residents who are not homeowners get mold treatment assistance?

Buildings with 1 to 4 units can qualify. The applicant must be the owner of the property to qualify for this program. The homeowner must complete and sign an access agreement to receive services. Renters can call 311 if they are having difficulties getting their landlord to address mold issues in their house or apartment.

What other mold treatment resources are available to homeowners?

Homeowners who want to learn more about mold and how to remove it themselves can register for free mold treatment training and obtain a free mold supply kit. The trainings are supported by the Mayor's Fund to Advance New York City and led by CUNY School of Public Health at Hunter College and the University of Medicine and Dentistry, New Jersey (UMDNJ) School of Public Health, in coordination with the NYC Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH). Trainings will take place in Brooklyn, Queens, and Staten Island. Homeowners can learn more about this program at www.nyc.gov.

Nonprofits, resources for

Resources for nonprofits impacted by Hurricane Sandy

The following resources continue to be available for nonprofits affected by Hurricane Sandy:

NYC Nonprofit Recovery Loan/Grant Program

The New York City Nonprofit Recovery Loan and Grant Program is designed to provide critical funds in the coming months to bridge the gap between expenditures needed to support the recovery from Hurricane Sandy and anticipated revenues such as grants, pledges, contract reimbursements, FEMA and insurance payments.

In all cases priority is given to nonprofit organizations that are located in and/or providing services in the areas most affected by Hurricane Sandy. Please read the description of each program to see which one fits your organization's circumstances.

The Loan/Grant Program is for organizations that have applied to FEMA, with the expectation that FEMA will, at some point, be making an award. These nonprofits may also be receiving funds from private insurance and/or an SBA Loan. The amount of the loan/grant is determined by tangible property damage. The loan portion will be made against reimbursements expected from private insurance, SBA loans, FEMA and government contracts. Loans will be interest-free.

The Nonprofit Recovery Loan/Grant Program is administered by the Fund for the City of New York. The grant component of the program is supported by the Mayor's Fund to Advance New York City and the loan program is supported by funders including the Ford Foundation, Capital One Bank, and The New York Community Trust.

All Hands Volunteers

All Hands is doing mucking, gutting, and mold treatment. Our mucking and gutting is generally in support and preparation for our mold treatment, though by no means exclusively. We are currently targeting 100 houses for mold treatment from January 7 to July 7. It is important to note that we're not offering professional mold remediation or certification of our process. If a client needs such certification for a contractor or insurance, I would direct them to the Better Business Bureau's listing of environmental services on Long Island: <http://www.bbb.org/new-york-city/accredited-business-guide/environmental-testing-consulting/4040>.

Our requirements to be able to treat for mold in a house are:

- There must be electricity to the house. The house doesn't need to have been rewired, but there must be power to, if not past, the breaker panel.
- The house must be securable. This is typically by locking the doors and windows and putting a realtor's key box on the door for our teams to access the house. In some cases, if residents are present full-time, this isn't necessary, but is still our preference.
- During cold weather, the house must have heat. If it is above about 45 degrees, we can heat the house with our portable heaters.
- The homeowner must be willing to let us gut the house to the extent necessary for mold treatment to be effective. This varies from house to house, but usually includes bathrooms, drywall to four feet or eight feet, all furniture and possessions, and often floors.

We don't have formal financial criteria or vetting in place. Our intent is, by working in and reaching out to low-income areas we will reach the most vulnerable.

We're working in and around Long Beach, Island Park, Oceanside, East Rockaway, and Freeport. We have worked as far as Wantagh, Massapequa, South Hempstead, Valley Stream, and essentially anywhere within about a half hour drive of our base in Long Beach.

Our turnaround time to call back homeowners is pretty fast, usually the same day or the next day. Our turnaround for the assessor to visit is also fast, usually one to three days. Our turnaround for work to start is usually one to two weeks after assessment. Gutting can take anywhere from half a day to six days. Treating for mold, including drying, can take from 48 hours to eight days.

To refer cases to us, your agents or clients can call (516) 362-6493, or email sandyresponse@hands.org.

These services are available to homeowners who sustained minor to moderate damage, but do not have enough funds to complete all repair work. Some residents may qualify for additional gap building materials funds ($2,500 maximum), based on their financial need. There is no income requirement for applicants requesting only volunteer labor and that have funds to purchase all materials, though cases may be prioritized based on need. All applications must be submitted through a Case Manager at a qualified disaster case management agency. For more information on NECHAMA's services please contact (201)399-2012 or longisland@nechama.org.

Touro Law Center

Touro Law Center, together with partners the Suffolk County Bar Association, the Disaster Relief Law Center "You.Me.We." and the Student Disaster Relief Network, has launched the Touro Law Center – Hurricane Emergency Assistance and Referral Team (TLC-HEART). The center provides referrals, assistance and legal advice for local residents and small businesses affected by Hurricane Sandy.

Residents can call the center at (631) 761-7198 or email tlcheart@tourolaw.edu to receive assistance from disaster relief-trained students and volunteer attorneys who will match resident concerns with referrals to federal, state and local government agencies and private groups offering storm-related assistance. The telephone hotline will be answered live Monday through Thursday from 9:00 am to 6:00 pm and on Friday from 9:00 am to 3:00 pm. Voicemail messages can be left 24/7.

Help is available on a wide-range of legal and non-legal issues. Residents have been calling with a wide range of storm-related problems, including landlord-tenant problems, insurance issues, and employment law inquiries, as well as questions about the location of shelters, food pantries and clothing donations.
